Allwoman is an awarding winning skincare clinic and e-commerce store based just outside Nenagh. Gerardine has over 30 years' experience and now specialises in the provision of beauty treatments, specialised skincare, nail care and personal care to recently diagnosed cancer patients as well as those living beyond cancer. She is highly qualified in oncology beauty, oncology massage and specialised skincare management during treatment.

Gerardine won the TESS/LIT Entrepreneur Award in 2016, following by the Social Entrepreneur Award in 2017 for the regional Network North Tipperary. She has also been a finalist in the Network Ireland Awards for Social Entrepreneurs.

Her e-commerce store distributes Gift Care Packs containing products that have been carefully considered, evaluated, hand-picked and approved by her. She is currently studying skincare formulation with a leading Organic Skincare Formulation School in the UK.
